

13TH ANNUAL TRAUMA SYMPOSIUM

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 2019

7:30A-3:00P

MACINNES AUDITORIUM
TAMPA GENERAL HOSPITAL

Background: Tampa General is hosting a 6-hour Trauma Education Symposium with the emphasis on Blast injuries. Blast injuries often occur from explosions and are commonly associated with Military injuries; however, they can occur anytime and in a variety of settings including industrial, mining, shipping, and chemical plants. When an explosion occurs, energy is rapidly released in the form of light, heat, and sound. The effects of an explosion on the human body are numerous.

Intent: For the learner to be able to predict potential injuries from an explosion by assessment and patterns of injury while providing effective treatment and re-evaluation of the injured patient.

Target Audience: Nurses, Respiratory Therapists, Paramedics and EMT's, Students and other clinical providers involved in trauma care

Accreditation: 6 Continuing Education Credits (Trauma Hours) will be provided.
